

There is Still Time to Get a Flu Shot

Flu vaccine is available and there is still time for people in high-priority groups to get a flu vaccine.

- In Washington, flu season typically peaks in February or March.
- Flu shots are still effective in January or later.

For a list of high-priority groups and more information about flu, visit: www.doh.wa.gov and click "Flu News".
